Google Docs – Voice Typing

The screenshot shows the Google Docs interface. At the top, there is a blue header with the word "Docs" and a menu icon on the left, and a search icon, an "AZ" icon, and a folder icon on the right. Below the header, the main area is dark grey. On the left, the text "Start a new document" is displayed. A red circle highlights a blue plus sign icon on a white background, which is the "Blank" document template. To the right of this are several other document templates: "Resume Serif", "Resume Coral", "Letter Spearmint", "Report Luxe", and "Project proposal Tropic". Each template has a small preview image and a title below it. On the far right of this row, there is a "MORE" button with a double arrow icon. Below the "Start a new document" section, there is a "Recent documents" section with a dropdown menu set to "Owned by anyone". It shows four document thumbnails. The first three are "Untitled document" and were opened on 2 Mar 2016. The fourth is "Web browser shortcut keys" and was opened on 18 Mar 2013. Each thumbnail has a small icon and a three-dot menu icon.

There is a sheet of special commands available to help you

Google Docs – Voice Typing

Type with your voice in Google Docs

You can type and edit a document by speaking in Google Docs.

Note: This feature is only available in Chrome browsers.

Start voice typing

1. Check that your microphone works.
2. Open a document in Google docs with a Chrome browser.
3. Click Tools > Voice typing. A microphone box appears.
4. When you're ready to speak, click the microphone.
5. Speak clearly, at a normal volume and pace (see below for more information on using punctuation).
6. When you're done, click the microphone again.

Correct mistakes while voice typing

- If you make a mistake while you're typing with your voice, you can move your cursor to the mistake and fix it without turning off the microphone.
- After you correct the mistake, move the cursor back to where you want to continue.
- To see a list of suggestions, right-click words underlined in gray.
